LATER. As the mail closes, the efficial reports begin to come io, hurried and ragmentary. General Bayard's report severely countries Col. Windham, of the lat New Jersey cavalry, for rath ne-s and unskillful conduct in advance and at seck. The charge was made of er a harmssing march, when the horses were staggering in the ranks from exhaustion, and the men had been without other rations than beef for three days. The repulse is wholly attributable to Col. Windham's bad conduct, and neglec or disob dience of orders. When the Kane R'fl's, the Bucktalls, were sent into the words, a large to ce of the enemy was a most immediately numa-ked, and orders were at once sont to the Riles to withdraw. Before this could be effected, and r the terrible fire to which we were exposed, they lost, in killed, wounded and missing, titty five men.
